The Blanton’s Major Gift Circles recognize philanthropic individuals who provide vital financial support for the museum at the $10,000 level and higher—from exhibitions to education programs, and from publications to conservation.

Through their gifts, Major Gift Circle donors help the Blanton fulfill its mission to offer unique opportunities for learners of all ages to experience the life enhancing power of art. It is only through this generosity that the Blanton can continue its pursuit of excellence and deepen its impact as one of the country’s leading university art museums and the principal art museum for the city of Austin.

We are pleased to prominently recognize these donors on our annual donor wall, as well as on annual support listings found in Blanton collateral such as Articulate, the museum’s member magazine.

In addition, as generous patrons of the museum, Major Gift Circle donors are invited to engage with the Blanton through programming, events, and other special access to the museum.

The minimum gift to be included in Blanton donor listings is $5,000.
